The races are run under League of American Wheelmen rules, and are sanctioned by the League of American Wheelmen Racing Board. The Howitzers belongs the credit of holding one of the most successful bicycle meets ever held in this city.

Their races for this season will be held on Saturday, July 25; Friday and Saturday, July 26 and 27, and on Saturday, August 27th. The entries for the races taking place on July 25 will close on Thursday, July 23rd, at 9 P. M. Played a Plucky Game.
A game of ball of much interest was played at the Masonic Home yesterday afternoon between the home team and the team of the Jefferson Athletic Association. The contest was at times exciting, and the outcome close, the score being 13 to 11 in favor of the Athletics. Of the games played by these teams, the Athletics have won two. The Masonics, however, played a plucky game.

Post "A" Meets.
The regular meeting of Post "A," Travellers' Protective Association, was held last night at the headquarters of Post "A," Third and Main streets. An unusual amount of routine business was done. A number of visitors were also present and received a cordial welcome.

Married in February.
The statement published yesterday that Mr. Louis C. Roebuck and Miss Mirra Cottrell were married a few days ago is a mistake. Mr. Roebuck claimed his fair bride in February last, and is only sorry he could not have claimed her sooner.

A Trifling Morning Fire.
Alarm of fire was turned from Box No. 28 this morning at 12:07 o'clock, calling the department to Leigh street and Brooke avenue, where a small fire had been discovered in the stable of Mr. J. H. Notting. The flames were quickly extinguished, and no damage was done.

Reeks Removed from the Channel.

MR. JAMES PLEASANTS

THIS DISTINGUISHED BARRISTER
PASSES AWAY AT MOUNTAIN TOP.

HAS BEEN ILL A LONG TIME.

Sketch of His Career—His Position at the Bar—A Man of the Highest Attainments—Funeral to Take Place This Afternoon.

Mr. James Pleasant, one of the most distinguished members of the Richmond bar, is dead.

He passed away at the Mountain Top Hotel yesterday at noon, and a short time thereafter a telegram conveyed the sad intelligence to his many friends in this city. The news, however, did not come in the nature of a shock. For some weeks Mr. Pleasant had been hovering between life and death, and his friends were prepared for the end.

Deceased had been in failing health for more than a year, and had not been able to attend to his practice during that time. He sought relief at various places of resort, but was unable to find it. He resided at Clifton Springs, N. Y., but was little benefited thereby, and returned to his home in this city. He remained here but a short time, and went to Mountain Top, where he remained until the end.

HIS CAREER.
Mr. Pleasant was born in May, 1831, and was, therefore, in the 67th year of his age. He was the son of John Hampden Pleasant, the founder of the Richmond Whig, than whom Virginia has produced no more highly-touted and brilliant man, and grandson of Governor James Pleasant, of the old regime. His uncle, Hugh Pleasant, was founder of the Richmond Dispatch, and among the brightest writers of the day.

Mr. Pleasant was educated under the best teachers of his time—Mr. William Burke, Dr. Maupin, and Colonel Crozet—and went from the Richmond Academy to the University of Virginia. There, in the sessions extending from 1848 to 1851, he enjoyed the influence and instruction of those splendid men—Professors Cabell, Courtenay, Harrison, Rogers, Davis, McEluffey, and their like, having for his fellow students young men, who have in the world done honor to their instructors, such as R. G. H. Keen, of Lynchburg, W. W. Henry, of Staunton, F. H. Smith, W. E. Peters, Mr. Holliday, and other good fellows, whose bright and honorable youth gave promise of their after excellence.

A THOROUGH STUDENT.
At the University he was noted for faithful study and laborious work, and in 1851 took the degree of Master of Arts. On returning to Richmond he studied law in the office of Robert C. Stanard, and was the private tutor of his son, the late Mr. Hugh Stanard. After a satisfactory preparation he entered upon the practice of the law, and was for many years a commissioner in chancery.

On the breaking out of the war he at once joined the Hampton Artillery Company, named in honor of his father, and was made first lieutenant. He was a devoted patriot, and enthusiastic and devoted to the cause of the Union. Later in the war he was advanced to the Ordnance Department, with the title of captain.

HIS MARRIAGE.
On the return of peace he resumed the practice of his profession, and in 1867 married his cousin, Miss Caroline T. Massie, daughter of the late Mr. Henry Massie, of Albemarle. Mr. Pleasant had been a member of the bar since 1857, and was a man of high standing, and his command of English was unsurpassed. His easy, fluent style, combined with conciseness and logical force, made him a powerful speaker. He was a man of high character, and his life was a model of integrity and honor.

A DISTINGUISHED LAWYER.
In the practice of his profession he was distinguished for his high sense of honor and of professional duty, and for his scientific, laborious, and painstaking character. He was a man of high character, and his life was a model of integrity and honor. He was a man of high character, and his life was a model of integrity and honor.

NOTED ASSOCIATES.
He came to the bar when the Richmond Bar was noted far and wide for the distinguished ability of its membership. Among his associates were Messrs. Taylor, John M. Patton, John O. Steger, Judges Meredith and Crump, James Lyons, and William H. McFarland were regular practitioners, and their names were prominent in the history of the bar.

THE TAX ON TELEGRAMS.
(New York World.)
Perhaps no one of the new war taxes creates more annoyance than the one cent tax on telegrams.

Nobody ought to object to the tax itself. To the ordinary citizen it is much too trifling for that, whatever it may be to great establishments that send multitudes of telegrams. But usually the casual sender of a telegram has no one cent stamp in his possession. Neither has the operator at the small office from which he sends his dispatch.

Yet he is in a hurry. Otherwise he would not send a dispatch at all. The whole difficulty may be easily overcome if the Treasury Department will authorize telegraph companies to keep blanks with engraved stamps on them, charging the extra cent on each message, and if a message overruns the space on a blank, furnishing unstamped blanks for the exceeding pages.

Nowhere else in the world is it truer that "time is money" than in the sending of telegraphic dispatches. The new tax is trifling in itself to all but a few. It ought, also, to be made as trifling as possible in its demands upon the time of busy and hurried men.

MRS. PINKHAM'S ADVICE.

What Mrs. Nell Hurst has to Say About It.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—When I wrote to you I had not been well for five years; I had doctored all the time but got no better. I had womb trouble very bad. My womb pressed backward, causing piles. I was in such misery I could scarcely walk across the floor. Menstruation was irregular and too profuse, was also troubled with leucorrhoea. I had given up all hopes of getting well; everybody thought I had consumption.

After taking five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I was able to do nearly all my own work. I continued the use of your medicine, and feel that I owe my recovery to you. I cannot thank you enough for your advice and your wonderful medicine. Any one doubting my statement may write to me and I will gladly answer all inquiries.—MRS. NELL HURST, Deepwater, Mo.

Letters like the foregoing, constantly being received, contribute not a little to the satisfaction felt by Mrs. Pinkham that her medicine and counsel are assisting women to bear their heavy burdens.

Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass. All suffering women are invited to write to her for advice, which will be given without charge. It is an experienced woman's advice to women.

Other Deaths and Funerals.
At 5:45 o'clock yesterday morning, Mrs. Emily Minson, wife of Mr. Edie Minson, died at her residence on Chimborazo Park avenue. Mrs. Minson was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Stagg. She is survived by her husband and an infant child. The funeral will take place at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, from the residence of the deceased, to the residence of the deceased, to the residence of the deceased.

Mr. Chris Selbach died yesterday morning at 8:15 o'clock, in the 67th year of his age. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, from the residence of the deceased, to the residence of the deceased, to the residence of the deceased.

Mrs. Mary E. Carr, wife of Mr. G. W. Carr, died in the 28th year of her age. The funeral will take place from old St. John's church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

FUNERAL OF MAJOR RICHARDSON.
The remains of Major Benjamin W. Richardson, who died last Friday, as announced in yesterday's Dispatch, will be laid to rest in the National Cemetery tomorrow morning. The funeral services will be held in St. Paul's church at 10:30 o'clock.

The pall-bearers will be: Honorary—John F. Glenn, Major Sol. Catehins, Colonel J. B. Eigger, Richard W. Maury, Captain George W. Jarvis, Dr. Deas, T. Roberts Baker, and John M. Nolting.

Active—B. Rand, Wellford, J. W. Walshaw, Rev. T. Crump, Jackson Guy, James T. Gray, Charles P. Rade, Captain Clarence Wyatt, and Major Peyton Carrington.

The funeral of Mr. Robert Hill, Jr., who died Friday morning, will take place from the First Presbyterian church this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. The interment will be in Hollywood.

He was an Old-Fellow and an Elk, and was a member of Joppa Lodge, No. 40, A. F. and A. M., and Virginia Conclave, Improved Order of Heptasophs, and details from which will serve as pall-bearers.

Mr. Hill was a member of the Virginia Military Institute for two years.

The Truth of History.
(Edmonton (Ga.) Messenger.)
The Atlanta Journal has a war correspondent who signs himself "Henry Remey, Brevet Major, U. S. A., Retired," who is given overmuch to the use of the terms "rebel" and "rebellion" in referring to the war between the States and to those who defended the Southern States against their invaders in that war.

In the interest of the truth of history we suggest that the letters of Mr. Remey, "Brevet Major, U. S. A., Retired," be subjected to an editing that will exclude from them terms that are false in fact and offensive in significance, before they are permitted to appear in the columns of the Journal. And we will take this occasion to urge upon the people of the South and the truth of history in this regard. The editorial management of every southern newspaper should make it an inviolable rule of the office that the word "rebel" and "rebellion" shall never appear in their columns in reference to the war in which American patriots fought under Jefferson Davis and Robert E. Lee in defence of the principles of self-government and constitutional government, proclaimed by Jefferson and Madison, Hancock, and Adams, and for which American patriots fought under Washington and Henry Lee, and in behalf of which American soldiers are now marching to battle under Fitzhugh Lee. Northern papers are abusing the use of those misleading and offensive terms; even the New York Tribune uses in their stead the term "Civil War," but we cannot expect that the youth and the coming generation of the South will have a correct understanding of the great war between the States while they are continually reading of it in the columns of southern papers as "the war of the rebellion."

Let the United Confederate Veterans take this matter up. Their efforts to establish and maintain the truth of history will be of little avail in the face of continued culpable indifference and negligence on the part of the press. That was a war between States. It should always be alluded to as the war between the States. "War of the rebellion" is a misnomer, a historical and offensive misnomer. It misrepresents the true character of that war, and a rigid censorship of the press should exclude it from the columns of southern papers, and from all papers and publications, that have proper regard for the truth of history.

OUR VIRGINIA BOYS

AT CAMP CUBA LIBRE AND CAMP ALGER.

ANENT THE SECOND PAY-DAY.

Much Has Been Learned by Experience—An Order That Does Not Apply to the Old Dominion Troops—Notes.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., July 16.—(Special.)—Practically none of the experiences of the first pay-day followed the last one. The officers had learned a lesson, and the men were not allowed to go to town, except on special business, and their objects in getting into the city had to be very clearly stated, otherwise no passes were issued. As a result, there was little disorder, and the guard-houses were no fuller than usual. I think it true, also, that the men have realized that it doesn't pay to indulge in such conduct as on the pay-day before, and immediately afterwards, as many of them saw large portions of their month's pay kept back to satisfy fines for misconduct.

The officers and men here find language entirely too weak to express their feelings regarding the Southern Express Company, which will not deliver packages in the camp, the local manager saying it will not pay to put on an extra wagon, though he admits the business at this point was $8.00 greater in the month of June than for the same period last year, and says the presence of the soldiers here caused the increase. That the company could spare a wagon, and two men remain in camp all during pay-day for the purpose of selling money-orders to the men at a big cent, caused the belief that a man and wagon could be furnished to carry packages on ordinary days.

TYPHOID-FEVER.
There is an alarming amount of typhoid fever in camp, and the deaths are numerous. Three occurred yesterday. The first was that of a private, who died at his residence on Chimborazo Park avenue. The Virginia patients, however, are nearly all doing well, and no fatalities are now apprehended. Private Spotswood, of Company K, Fourth Regiment, who was very ill with typhoid fever, is convalescing.

Lieutenant Cansey, of Company G, Fourth Regiment, is ill at a private residence in Jacksonville, and it will be some time before he is out again.

Several men from the Suffolk companies have captured an alligator, which they will present to Hon. J. E. Booker, editor of the Suffolk Herald, and member of the House of Delegates from Nansemond county.

Private G. S. Hindling, of Company G, Fourth Virginia, the editor of Camp Cuba Libre Review, the only camp paper published, has ordered a complete printing outfit, including a Washington hand-press, which will follow the army wherever it goes, and it is expected to issue a paper from Cuba or Porto Rico. There are eight compositors in Company G.

Private Eugene Caffee, of Company B, Fourth Regiment, has received an honorable discharge, owing to physical disability.

Lieutenant B. Mercer Hartman, of Company L, Second Regiment, has gone to Richmond to arrange for securing a Young Men's Christian Association tent.

Company B, of the Second, expects to receive from Richmond friends soon a large mess tent.

ADDITIONAL LETTERS.
Those who write letters to soldiers must be careful to designate the regiment and company to which they belong. For instance, Private Harry Wrenn, of Company A, Fourth Virginia, recently received a letter addressed to him at "Camp Cuba Libre, Jacksonville, Fla.," without giving his regiment and company. As a result it was delayed nearly one month, having gone to ten other regiments in camp before reaching the right one.

Corporal John W. Stark is able to do duty again after a recent bayonet thrust in the leg.

Among the recent recruits received by the Fourth Regiment was Willie Moncre, a son of Dr. W. A. Moncre, Surgeon-General of the Eastern State Hospital. Young Moncre has 22 years of service in the Virginia Military Institute for two years.
